The Difference

There is little difference between the cost of good printing and poor printing, but the satisfaction in the use of stationery, forms or any printed matter correctly prepared is well worth the additional expense, if any.

It is largely a matter of attention to the details of the work and knowledge of the customer's requirements. Therefore it is quite possible to buy better service at reasonable price when you seek the benefit of our experience.

We can supply engraved and thermographed business and wedding stationery, register forms, salesbooks, calendars and other specialized work promptly and at low prices.

Just telephone Vandyke 4-2444 when printing is needed. If we can't do it as it should be, or get it for you economically, we will tell you.

COUNTRY FLAVOR

WOODLAND RAVINE
Each person should own certain places in his heart—sanctuaries where he can find succor from the tensions and pressures of the marketplace. In population centers, elbow-rubbing friction is inevitable; most of us must follow daily paths hard-packed by hurrying feet.

But a man can, if he will, find refuge in woodland, meadow, or on a hillside where he can escape for a time from the pressing details of daily routine, and recharge the batteries of his soul.

One of the places that offer peace and perspective is a woodland ravine where the sun's golden shafts reach through the branches and paint a picture of majesty and order. A school of teachers stand

A Town Meeting That Never Ends

The New England Council:
Stimulant of A Region

"We are on the threshold of more effective law enforcement practices in the New England states through further interstate co-operation on the part of all six state police commissioners," says William E. Baumann, Vermont Commissioner of Public Safety and chairman of the N. E. State Police Administrators Conference.

A determined stand has been taken in Washington in the interest of New England because of the government's policy on residual oil restrictions which, if continued, will cost oil users in the region an additional $10,000,000 a year in operating expenses.

A new vacation center has been opened in New York's Rockefeller Plaza where every month thousands of Americans inquire about and plan trips to New England.

These are just some results of New England Council effort in the last few months.

But what, precisely, is The New England Council?

Good question. While there are few who haven't heard of it, there are many who don't know its functions. The question cannot be answered in one sentence.

First the United States has been settled from West to East, New England — which could fit inside several other states — would probably have been settled as one state.

We can be thankful this didn't happen — but — of course — six states in such a small geographic area present certain economic problems which require united action on a regional scale.

Formed by Governors
The New England Council was established by the six New England governors 35 years ago.

This completely regional organization has three main objectives: to represent New England in Washington on matters that are of particular significance to the region; to encourage continued and expanded co-operation among all departments of government within our six states; and to promote, both within and without the region, every facet of the New England economy.

Interstate Operations
A striking example of the Council's role as a co-ordinating agency was its promotion this year of a conference of top State Police officials of the six-state area. It resulted in establishment of the New England State Police Administrators Conference which has initiated a four-year study into the problems of intelligence information, improved methods of arson investigation and study of uniform speed limits and traffic laws for all six states. Another outstanding example is the Council's role in the opening of the New England Vacation Center in New York's Rockefeller Plaza. Like the Boston headquarters, it is truly a New England enterprise. Thousands of Americans and tourists of all nations write, call or visit the New England Vacation Center every month.

SCHOOL NEWS

The school enrollment figures given in last week's edition omitted one class. Grade 4 at North Paris with an enrollment of 21 should have been included. The addition of this class to the enrollment list raises the total number of pupils currently attending school in Union 22 to 1011.

Physical examinations in Bethel schools will be given early in October. In addition,

"Freedom, like a receding hairline, isn't lost all at once. It goes gradually. If you can spend a few minutes each day using hair tonic to save your hair, can't you spend a few minutes each year at the polls to save your scalp?" — The News, publication of The Fitchburg Paper Company.

polio shots, tetanus boosters and smallpox vaccinations will be made available to pupils desiring them. Prior to the clinics parents of all school children will receive permission slips for them to sign authorizing the desired immunizations by the school physician and nurse.

Former teachers and other persons certified to teach who are interested in serving as substitute teachers during the current academic year are urged to contact the school office at Vandyke 4-2855.

The hot lunch program at the Primary and Crescent Park Schools will begin on Monday, October 17. The cost will be 30 cents for each meal including milk. Continuing last year's practice, pupils will be able to purchase a week's supply of lunch tickets each Monday morning.

The Crescent Park annual magazine drive will be held this year the week of October 10th. The drive which is pupil sponsored and operated is designed to support the school activity fund which in the past has paid for audio-visual equipment, the Christmas party and other school equipment.

Tomorrow evening the 7th and 8th grade dance will be held at the Crescent Park school from 7-9 p. m. Refreshments will be served.

School hours this year at Crescent Park are 8:15-11:45 a. m. and 12:45-2:45 p. m. At the primary school the hours are: sub-primary, 8:15-11:30 for the morning session and 12:45-2:45 afternoon session; grades 1 and 2, 8:15-11:30 a. m. and 12:45-2:15 p. m.; grade 3, 8:15-11:50 a. m. and 12:45-2:45 p. m. 12:45-2:45.

Mrs. Floribel Haines, chairman of the local MTA-NEA membership drive this year has announced that the Locke Mills, West Paris and Newry elementary teachers groups are the first to record 100% membership this year. The Maine Teachers Assn. (MTA) is the

Departmental Activity

The Council carries out its aims through a number of departments, the heads of which are specialists in their fields. The NEC activities include transportation, industrial development, manufacturing, fuel, energy, tax and fiscal matters, natural resources, interstate relations, industry aids to education and vacation travel.

News Bureau
The Council also maintains its own news bureau and public relations department which deals with all media on a nationwide basis and is constantly receiving and fulfilling assignments for New England stories used by the news services, regional and national press, radio and television and for the Voice of America as well as the nation's magazines and network outlets.

The Council publishes its own magazine, The New Englander, highly readable mirror of business happenings in the six-state area. Widely quoted, it goes to more than 13,000 subscribers.

Works with 40 Congressmen
The New England Council, with general offices in Boston, is composed of six individual state councils. It is under the guidance of a 108-member board of directors, 18 from each of the six states.

In Washington, experienced staff members work constantly against discriminatory regional legislation and taxation. They fight the New Englanders' battle for passage of beneficial legislation. They work very closely with all 40 New England congressmen.

Non Political
Untrammelled by political alliances, the Council, with the knowledge and complete co-operation of the six New England governors, crosses state borders to seek, study, recommend and promote areas in which individual state activities may be consolidated on a regional basis.

The focal point for action on the region's problems and ambitions, the Council is the spokesman, stimulant, salesman and publicist of the six-state area.

The need for promotion is clearly apparent in a glance at New England's billion-dollar vacation-travel industry, now facing the fiercest kind of competition. Other areas — Europe, Florida, the West Coast, for example — frankly covet it and are determined to siphon off as much tourist trade as possible.

Over 3000 Members
The non-partisan, non-political and privately supported NEC, representing industry, labor, finance, and services is doing its best to see that New England is not out-promoted, out-developed, or out-manuevered by other states, regions and interests.

The Council, financed solely by more than 3000 members, serves every New Englander because it serves the region. Never was there a greater need for The New England Council than there is today — as we face the challenging Sixties.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read Psalm 119:97-104.
The statutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart; the commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes. (Psalm 18:8.)

My forty years of Christian experience have proved to me that the Bible is the chart of life.

As a teenager I had felt the need of a true chart and compass for my life in this world of uncertainty. How grateful I am that through God's mercy I have found in Christ the true captain of my soul and in the Bible the true chart of my life!

Through the tempests of my life my Captain has stood beside me. Whenever darkness encompassed me, my soul was enlightened by the Word of God, and I was led safely to victory. More than once when brought to the very brink of death, I stood on the promise of God and was restored to health and strength.

The Word of God has inspired, strengthened, and guided me when all else failed. I have been troubled before, yet as I have knelt before God, the Holy Spirit has been my helper. He has brought understanding and comfort, strength and guidance, as I have turned to the life-giving Word of God.

PRAYER: We thank Thee, our Father, for Thy Word, which is the true chart and compass of our lives. Help us to put our trust in Thee and believe Thy word and be guided by it. In Christ's name. Amen. Thought For The Day

God never fails those who trust Him for guidance. Vahram Salibian (Lebanon) Copyright — The Upper Room

TELEPHONE STOCKS

A Study of More Secure Values in a Faltering Stock Market

Telephone stocks have normally been recognized as good defensive issues against a stock market decline. They have also been recognized as a good medium for investment for secure income. What perhaps has been overlooked is that this group has growth prospects making it possible for individual investors to outperform the stock market as a whole. In essence, telephone stocks may be purchased for long term capital appreciation.

Today the writer is rather pessimistic about the outlook for the stock market and therefore he is inclined to look more favorably on such a group as telephone stocks. Even if he is wrong in his forecast, the holders of these issues should make out favorably. It is interesting to note that most of the best issues registered relatively small declines in the 1957 break in the stock market and since then have recovered remarkably well to a point where many of them have outperformed the overall stock averages.

Perhaps the favorable performance of telephone stocks in recent years may be attributable, first, to increased automated operations accomplished primarily through the medium of the dial telephone, and also to the fact that they have been fairly successful in receiving reasonable treatment from the regulatory authorities with respect to telephone rates.

It is interesting to note that two of the major companies, American Tel. & Tel. and General Telephone, both have substantial stakes in the electronics field which should accelerate their growth over the long term. For this reason as well as for the reason that American Tel. has been the largest and most successful company while General Tel. has been the largest independent company outside the Bell System, we have selected these two stocks as our particular favorites. For many years American Tel. was regarded primarily as an income stock as a $9.00 dividend was paid regularly on its outstanding shares from 1922 to 1959. More recently the company split its stock three-for-one and increased the dividend and there is evidence that management has been successful enough to assure strong growth which will make it possible for the company to increase its dividend rate from time to time.

The most interesting recent development in General Tel. is its acquisition of Sylvania Elec. Products which has created a situation whereby almost two-thirds of its revenues are derived from manufacturing activities. Other telephone companies we like particularly for growth are: New England Telephone and Pacific Telephone.

To summarize, we believe that the common stocks of telephone companies offer the investor the rather unique position of having his cake and eating it in that they provide a shelter against a stock market decline and offer opportunity for long term capital appreciation while paying a relatively generous dividend.

V. A. NEWS LETTER

Somewhere in homes, nursing homes, and rooming houses throughout the country are disabled veterans whose further recovery is delayed because they are lonely.

Men paralyzed from strokes or injuries, disabled aging veterans of the Spanish-American War and World War I, those recovering from mental illness, tuberculosis, and a host of other diseases—all need the companionship and friendly encouragement of the community volunteer.

The Veterans Administration Voluntary Service—arm of the VA hospitals located in every state except Alaska and Hawaii—would like to reach these lonely ex-patriates of the hospitals, to brighten their long days of convalescence.

But the VAVS needs help. There are not enough of its volunteers for this community service in addition to service in VA hospitals, and many of the disabled veterans live some distance away from the hospitals.

The VA is seeking many more volunteers, and especially those who can follow up patients leaving the hospitals and assist them in readjusting to community life.

Information on the VAVS and how to become one of its volunteers can be obtained from the chairman of the VAVS advisory committee at the VA Center located in Togus, Maine.
